DEADLY WEAPONS INSURANCE

Deadly Weapon incidents are rare, but their impact on staff, customers, operations, and reputation can be severe.

Coast's Deadly Weapons Insurance helps organisations prepare for, respond to, and recover from events where a weapon capable of causing serious harm or death is used, brandished, or threatened within business premises or during official activities.

THREE PILLARS OF PROTECTION

1. Prevention: Access risk management tools, security assessments, webinars, and guidance to identify and reduce potential threats.
2. Response: Immediate support from 24/7 crisis consultants, including victim assistance, communications, legal guidance, and psychological first aid.
3. Insurance: Coverage for liability, property damage, business interruption, crisis management costs, accidental death & medical expenses, and counselling.

Protecting against deadly weapons incidents

At Coast, our specialist underwriting team works closely with Certain Underwriters at Lloyd's to deliver Deadly Weapons Insurance.

While the nature of these risks is highly specialised, Coast brings its deep experience in protecting Australian businesses, coordinating with the experts to provide practical solutions that safeguard people, property, and operations.

COAST'S RISK APPETITE

The Deadly Weapons Policy may be suitable for organisations that operate in environments with high visitor volumes, including:

- Shopping centres & retail precincts
- Universities & TAFE campuses
- Transport operators & infrastructure providers
- Event & entertainment venues
- Healthcare & hospitality facilities
- Sporting & community centres

Weapons covered include firearms, knives, syringes, corrosive substances, vehicles used deliberately to harm, and other handheld objects.
